

Help us help them – supporter appeal

Join our Supporter Scheme for as little as £25/year and make a big difference to someone struggling to cope in Scottish Agriculture

Dear Friend,

RSABI provides emotional, practical and financial support to individuals and their families across the agricultural sector including farming, crofting and growing.

In recent years RSABI has experienced a surge in demand for services, at an average cost to the charity of £500,000 each year in direct financial assistance.

Given the tough times facing farming and the wider land-based industry at this time of great uncertainty, we have launched an appeal to increase the number of individuals currently supporting RSABI and to help us meet the cost of our important work.

We provide important support for people like Scotty:

Following a career well spent as a stockman, Scotty began to find things difficult in retirement. Put in touch via a rural housing association, an RSABI case officer visited and arranged for regular payments to help him cope with heating costs and other essentials on a regular basis.

Your gift of £25 per year will mean a great deal to someone like Scotty and will enable us to continue our valuable work supporting more people in Scottish agriculture.

Please help us help them by joining our Supporter Scheme today and be proud to support people in Scottish agriculture!

With best wishes,

RSABI Development Manager

"I didn't like to ask for help, but don't be frightened to ask for help – RSABI's assistance has made a great difference to me".
